

The Ultimate Guide On All You Need To Know About Yankee Foxhound Breeding

History

The Yankee Foxhound is a breed of dog developed in the United States for fox hunting. The breed is descended from English Foxhounds and American Foxhounds. The Yankee Foxhound was first developed in the late 18th century by George Washington. Washington bred his hounds with English Foxhounds and American Foxhounds to create a dog that was faster and more agile than the English Foxhound, and had a better nose than the American Foxhound.
